

Meet the Winner of the World's Most Notorious Literary Marathon

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 12

Reading and Book Signing

*With an informal Q&A to follow on the author's intense and victorious
3-Day Novel experience*

7 p.m. onward

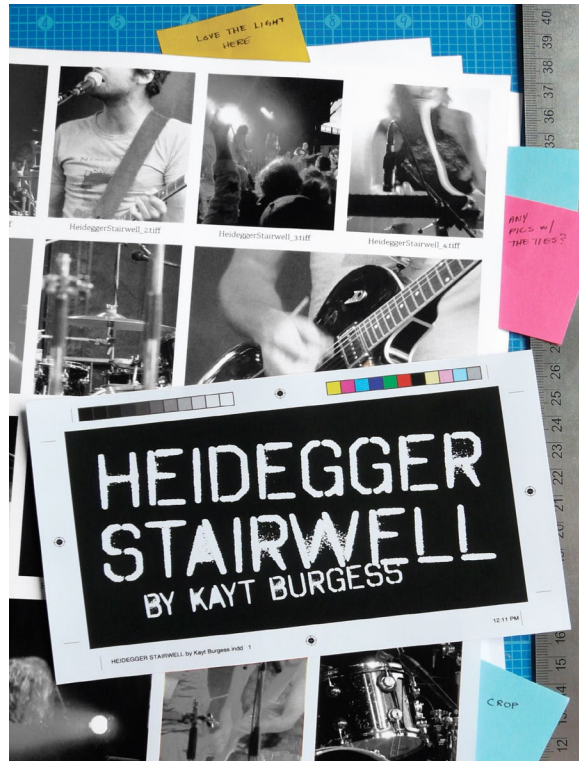

A Different Drummer
(A proudly independent community bookstore)

513 Locust Street
Burlington
905-639-0925

FREE ADMISSION

Book ISBN: 978-55152-486-3

More information at 3daynovel.com and differentdrummerbooks.ca

KAYT BURGESS
*Author of Heidegger Stairwell
Winner of the 34th Annual International 3-Day
Novel Contest

Elliot Lake native Kayt Burgess is a teacher, musician, classical operatic soprano, and the winner of the 2011 International 3-Day Novel Contest—a notorious, Canadian-born tradition that forces writers to produce a masterwork of fiction in 72 short hours. Come meet Kayt and hear her read from Heidegger Stairwell, her gender- and genre-bending contest-winning novel. This unique coming-of-age story offers a rare peek into the unseen world of small-town Ontario's thriving independent music scene, as told through the faux-biographic narration of one of the most rebellious, charismatic, and complex characters to hit the pages of Canadian literature this year.

Copies of Heidegger Stairwell will be for sale on-site—or find yours at www.3daynovel.com.